Learning Opportunity

The University of Florida Literacy Institute (UFLI) will comprehensively review the UFLI Foundations' explicit and systematic phonics program. This will include a brief overview of the program, a review of essential background knowledge needed for implementation, and an overview of the manual and materials needed. Each lesson step will be covered in-depth with an opportunity to practice the newly learned strategies. Finally, there will be a brief overview to progress monitoring and differentiation.

This session will provide participants with the information required to implement the UFLI Foundations in their classrooms effectively. Participants who complete this training are also eligible to participate in the Facilitator Training program and subsequently deliver this Implementation training program in their school or division.

Presenters

Dr. Alyssa (Aly) Ricke

Dr. Alyssa (Aly) Ricke graduated from UF with her Bachelors in Special Education and Masters in Early Childhood Education. Since then, she has been a teacher and literacy coach. After receiving her Reading Specialist from the University of Florida in 2016 and gaining experience as a literacy coach, she returned to UF and completed her doctoral program in Special Education with a specialization in dyslexia. Dr. Ricke's dissertation research focused on the state of literacy coaching in Florida elementary schools.

As of January 2019, she began working for the University of Florida as a Partnership Facilitator for the James Patterson Literacy Challenge. As a JPLC partnership facilitator, one of the most important roles she undertakes is guiding teachers in implementing research-based reading practices within their classroom. More recently, Dr. Ricke helped create the systematic and explicit phonics program, UFLI Foundations, as a contributing author. She continues to develop content and resources for the program, especially those related to the decodables, literacy coaching and supporting teachers' implementation of the program.

Carrie Perry

Carrie Perry has a bachelor's degree in Interdisciplinary Liberal Studies with a minor in Special Education from James Madison University. She is currently seeking a master's degree in Special Education and a Dyslexia Certificate from the University of Florida. Carrie began her career as an exceptional student education teacher and transitioned to the ESE Coordinator until she pursued a position in the Exceptional Student Education Department supporting teachers in various reading programs in the School District of Palm Beach County. Carrie currently works for the University of Florida Literacy Institute and provides support and professional development to district and school administrators, literacy coaches, and teachers in various school districts internationally. As a Partnership Facilitator with UFLI, Carrie is excited to share her personal experiences teaching and supporting teachers implementing Foundations and her love for the program with others.

Registration Notes

Participants are required to acquire their own copy of the UFLI Foundations manual directly from the University of Florida. This is the only resource that must be purchased, access to all other support resources, videos, printables is provided at no additional cost.
