Learning Opportunity

We know that as educational assistants, you go above and beyond, every day, in pursuit of supporting complex needs and impacting the lives of children, families and the learning community to which you belong. You are the vital connection many students need to be successful. This requires skill, dedication and patience beyond measure! The challenges of supporting students and staff in an environment where teaching and learning needs are continually evolving is complex work. This interactive and collaborative learning series is designed to provide staff who are currently in this complex role as well as for EA's new to the role with an overview of educational best practices in support of students and teachers. Participants will also develop an understanding of the importance of a common language and consistency in educational practices across a school or district.

Session 1 - Introduction & Roles and Responsibilities (September 27)

Session 2 - Supporting Students with Medical and Disability Needs (October 25)

Session 3 - Connecting with Community and Parents & Professional Communication and Interactions (November 22)

Session 4 - Responsive Relationships (December 13)

Session 5 - Overview Continuum of Supports & Building Your 1 & 2 Toolbox (January 31)

Session 6 - Supporting Language Learning in the Classroom (February 28)

Session 7 - Supporting Reading, Writing and Math in the Classroom (March 27)

Session 8 - Supporting Behaviour (April 24)

Session 9 - Individual Support Plans (May 15)

Session 10 - Connecting the Pieces (June 5)
